Write an ALP that will display the following pattern on the screen using text mode of display

When the user enters '?' it should come back to the original screen.